

Groupe Gorgé executives lower their remuneration in the context of COVID-19

In the current context of COVID-19 pandemic, and in solidarity with the Group's employees who are undergoing partial activity measures implemented to protect their health and allow activity to resume quickly as health conditions will allow, the Group's corporate officers have taken the initiative to lower their remuneration.

The majority of the Group's corporate officers have therefore decided to lower their remuneration by 15%, in order to align their remuneration with their most affected employees during the period of significant partial activity.

In addition, Raphaël Gorgé, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Groupe Gorgé and Guénaël Guillerme, Chief Executive Officer of ECA Group, have decided to reduce their remuneration by 50% during the confinement period. The savings will be donated to support family associations of the French and Belgian armies, Group customers and key support of the civil society during this period.
