On the eve of the international 3D Printing trade fair, Euromold, which will be held in Frankfurt from the 25th to the 28th of November 2014, Prodways is pleased to announce that it has signed several major distribution agreements aimed at its international development.

These new distribution agreements will enable Prodways to create a sales and distribution network spanning Germany, Austria and Italy, in addition to Romania and Eastern Europe. The company LSS will cover Germany and Austria, whereas Key Service will cover Italy, and Labvision will represent Prodways in Romania and Eastern Europe.

These three distribution agreements will enable Prodways to provide customers operating in these regions with a full range of services, including installation, level 1 and 2 technical support, the supply of spare parts and the distribution of materials.
